Romulus Reports Major 1969 Improvement Gains

Mahalak's Committee Sets Hearings on Vet Proposals

ROMULUS--State Representative Edward E. Mahalak (D-Romulus), chairman of the House Committee on Military and Veterans' Affairs, pledged his committee's "full consideration" of the legislative program prepared by the Commanders Group, which represents the congressionally chartered veterans organizations in Michigan.

Mahalak announced that the committee has scheduled a public hearing for 10 a.m. today Wednesday, Jan. 7 on the fourth floor of the Capitol to take testimony on the legislative proposals of the congressionally chartered veterans organizations.

A second hearing at 10 a.m. tomorrow (Thursday, Jan. 8) in the same location will be held for the non-congressionally chartered veterans groups.

"WE WELCOME all testimony from these organizations," Mahalak said. "They are close to veterans and know veterans' needs and desires. Such organizations as the Commanders Group have in the past given the committee invaluable assistance. They have been helpful and cooperative."

The Commanders Group has prepared a master legislative program. The program, as adopted, requests changes in the method of repayment schedule for Veterans Trust Fund purposes, changes in the veterans homestead property tax exemption act, an increase in the estate limitation for county burial benefits, changes in eligibility for war orphans' education benefits, plus other items to update current statutes providing benefits for Michigan veterans and their dependents.

"The committee is ready to consider these and other proposals," Mahalak stated. "Out of public hearings such as this has come much worthwhile veterans' legislation. We look forward to continued fruitful discussions in 1970."

He is United States Army Specialist Four Allen James Lams, 20, the only child of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred and Bessie Lams of 12500 Harrison Road.

Military personnel notified the family on Dec. 31 and a telegram received last Saturday reported that Specialist Four Lams was killed by heavy hostile fire while driving an army vehicle at Nha Trang on Dec. 27, 1969.

THE YOUNG soldier was a 1967 graduate of Romulus Senior High School and after basic and advanced training was sent to Vietnam on Nov. 30, 1969.

He is survived by his wife, Leona Yvonne Lams and an eight weeks old son, William Alan Lams in addition to his parents. The body of Specialist Four Lams is on its way here.

Funeral arrangements will be handled by the Baum Funeral Home, Romulus. Burial is to be in Michigan Memorial Cemetery.

Enter Year 1970 With Confidence

Official Programs Called For Continuous Advance

BY HENRY CANTIN
Staff Writer

ROMULUS--Officials of Romulus Township are entering the new year of 1970 with "confidence and faith" and with a program of continuing present and future programs calling for community growth, service and improving residential living.

The Romulus Board of Trustees, Township Supervisor and right down to employe ranks all have united in an increased cooperative program in the coming months to make Romulus, one of Western Wayne County's leading communities, a "most desirable" place in which to reside.

Although the year of 1969 was "troublesome and difficult" in some respects, a resume of the year's administrative operations disclosed that it accomplished many important improvements and major goals.

Township Supervisor Roderick E. Smith when interviewed on the year's accomplishments had this to say:

installation for the major portion of these lines which will not only benefit present residents but will open much of the vacant area for building expansion.

HIGHLY SIGNIFICANT is the proposed new zoning ordinance and map which is expected to be adopted in February or March of this year.

The effect of the airport, the railroads and the major highways will be dictated by a major overhaul of our present zoning map was extremely necessary. While the new zoning map is not a cure all certainly is a vital organ to the expansion of the Township in planned development.

Highly important to any

MANY THINGS, significant and important to Romulus occurred in 1969. While it is impossible to enumerate all of them on this occasion, some of the outstanding events of the year will long be remembered as monumental to our Community.

The new Municipal and Library Buildings which the Township will enjoy perhaps by May of 1971, is on the road to reality. With ground breaking scheduled for the 11th of January, 1970 it is expected that construction will consume about fifteen to eighteen months.

This major undertaking was accomplished when the cards were stacked against the Township insofar as its bond issue was concerned.

Another major move was the approval of almost One Million Dollars in water and sewer lateral lines. Contracts have been let for the

Relates Muskie Interview

ROMULUS--Barry Baumann, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Baumann 9440 Ozga Road, has returned Jan. 4 to St. Mary's College in Orchard Lake, after a two-week vacation at home. While Barry was home, he had a good story to tell his friends and family.

On Nov. 22, the Orchard Lake Schools, of which his college is a part, presented Maine Senator and 1968 Vice-Presidential candidate Edmund Muskie with the Fidelitas Medal, one which is given annually.

THE PRESENTATION was at the Latin Quarter in Detroit, in which Barry attended.

Preceding the reception,

Senator Muskie held a news conference. Following the conference, some students from the college met the senator, and the picture shows Barry meeting Muskie.

Barry received an autographed program from him as well. "He is a marvelous man," Barry said, "I recall hearing some

Homestead Tax Exemption

Would $100 come in handy?

If the answer is yes, the Michigan Commission on Aging reminds you that if you're 65 or over, you may be eligible to join over 150,000 other senior citizens who are taking advantage of the property tax reduction under Michigan's Homestead Tax Exemption.

The applicant, who must file for the exemption each year at his local assessor's office, can file anytime between Jan. 2 and sometime in March -- a date set by the local assessor's office.

To be eligible, Michigan residents must have lived in Michigan for over 5 (five) of the last 10 (ten) years, and have a total yearly income of not more than $5,000 -- including social security payments, inheritances, pensions, or proceeds from life insurance.

IT IS also required that the applicant have owned property in his name by Dec. 31, and the value of that homestead and real property does not exceed $10,000 in state equalized tax valuation. Those who are over 65 and are living in a cooperative housing facility or mobile homes are eligible in some instances.

The applicant must supply a deed, birth certificate -- a drivers license is not considered legal proof of age -- land contract or mortgage, a recent tax bill for the real property owned, and his social security number.

He should also be prepared to give the true cash value of property owned out of the state of Michigan and a statement of income.

THERE ARE no lien provisions attached to the Homestead Tax Exemption Act, and there will be no attempt by state or local governments to collect from the heirs or otherwise attach the property.

The Michigan Commission on Aging is also supporting the bill before the current Legislature which would raise the upper limitations on property value restrictions, and would increase the income allowance from $5,000 to $6,000. This, however, does not affect the current Homestead Tax Exemption requirements.

PTA Meets Challenges At Teachers' Breakfast

ROMULUS--Each year all the teachers of Hayti Elementary School receive a Christmas present from the PTA Executive Board.

The gift is one that requires more "ving" than the taking up of funds. This year the gift brought some special challenges.

Dark and very early the day before school was adjourned for the holidays, houses began to light up. At 4:30 a.m., some of the mothers began to dress and assemble the ingredients for a festive and sumptuous breakfast.

By 6 a.m. many were already at school and things were beginning to happen.

FOR SEVERAL months Flo Allen had been making center pieces for the tables; candles, holly, cherubs, gold and silver, all artistically

Huron Firemen Say Thanks

NEW BOSTON--The Huron Township Fire Department No. 3 reports that this year's Christmas Party was a huge success.

To the many residents and local merchants who helped to make the event a successful one, a sincere "thank you" and appreciation was issued by the department.

SOME 800 children and their parents were on hand to see Santa Claus arriving in his helicopter.

The winner of the Ski Doo drawing was Howard Cooper, of 7439 Penrod, Detroit.

One of the party's highlights was "Jerry The Clown" who entertained the children until all were able to tell Santa Claus what they wanted in gifts.

arranged on bases.

She had started to place them on the tables. She had also made Christmas corsages for all who had said they were coming and they were on display at the door, next to the guest list.

Mrs. Carole Rarick, who was chairman for the event this year, had bought pounds of sausage and bacon, dozens of eggs, quarts of citrus juices, plenty of biscuits, butter, potatoes, mushrooms, etc.

The first thing she did when she arrived was to start the coffee, and that was when the first challenge occurred. There was no water, not a drop.

THAT SHOULD have qualified for a few tears of frustration, but not so. An earlier arriver, Sandy Petrusaitis, had noted the failure and had whisked off to a still functioning faucet and had filled many jugs and bottles. She was at that moment coming in the door with them.

The coffee was started, the eggs cracked, the mushrooms drained when the fuses started blowing. Another challenge, not entirely unexpected.

The PTA ladies have had previous experience with Hayti's temperamental wiring. After a little of juggling of appliances the proper tolerance was achieved and things started bubbling, sizzling and smelling marvelously.

It was 7:10 a.m., and still dark outside, when the first guests arrived, signed the guest book and pinned on their corsages.

It was then also that the potatoes were missed. Where were they? "at home", said Carole, "frozen." Another challenge, and again, no great panic. Sandy was dispatched to the Rarick freezer while skilleters were greased and heated in anticipation of the frozen spuds.

THE SERVING lines were beginning to form at 7:25 a.m. and the potatoes were browning, with Joanne Farrell, Betty Geisler and Val Connolly, school principal, giving them their undivided attention.

Nan Meyer, Kenny and Ruth Samuels, Donalee Zavitz, Mary Bozelak and others began arranging platters of steaming food on the serving table and by 7:35 a.m., when the first guest reached the end of the table, where the sweet rolls were, the browned and crunchy potatoes arrived.

Coffee was poured, the blessing was asked and the 35 people who came began to eat with gusto. There were some who hadn't for years had anything more solid in the mornings than sugar cubes in coffee, who went back for seconds.

AFTER THE centerpieces were given to the lucky winners, the final challenge presented itself. With no water, how would Margaret Maitland and her helpers "clean up"?

"We could all take home a bag of dirty dishes," someone offered. "We could load them all in Ginny Smith's car," said someone else. But a straining sound from the kitchen announced the arrival of air and water through the pipes and that problem too was solved.

So it was, that on Dec. 18, at 7:40 a.m., the teachers and parents of the Hayti PTA executive board sat down together to share a beautiful and delicious breakfast.

PCHA Chairman Reports on 1969 Operation

WAYNE-The Peoples Community Hospital Authority is showing a continuous pattern of growth, expanded patient care and services, and greater community involvement.

Donald J. Pizzimenti, chairman of the Board of Directors of the PCHA, reported.

A year-end report notes the following events, activities and projects which represent highlights and accomplishments of the Peoples Community Hospital Authority:

*The newly-constructed Beyer Memorial Hospital in Ypsilanti, consisting of 174 beds, is scheduled for occupancy in February, 1970.

The 151-bed expansion of Seaway Hospital in Trenton, bringing its total number of beds to 230, is expected to be completed this month, January, 1970.

THE 1969 audit report for the year 1968 reveals that assets of the Authority have increased $1.9 million over the previous year, bringing the total assets to a record $36 million.

PCHA now represents a major industry in several participating communities, with a total payroll of $13.4 million, or 69.3 percent of the Authority's operating expenses.

There is a continued planning of shared services among the four union hospitals of PCHA:

1) The architects have been authorized to proceed with the working drawings for a central laundry and the principle equipment for this service has been ordered.

b) Two Isotope Scanners have been purchased and are in operation at Annapolis and Outer Drive Hospitals. Patients at Beyer Memorial Hospital are served by the service at Annapolis; patients at Seaway by the service at Outer Drive Hospital.

c) An Autoanalyzer for routine blood testing has been purchased and centrally located at Outer Drive Hospital for service to all four PCHA unit hospitals.

A SPECIAL LONG-RANGE Planning Committee has been created. Current projects include a study to determine needed extension of diagnostic services, such as x-ray and laboratory services at Outer Drive and Annapolis hospitals.

The Planning Committee of the Greater Detroit Area Hospital Council has voted to recommend to the Executive Committee of the GDAHC its approval for the construction of a new PCHA medical care facility in the city of Taylor.

A special committee of the Board of Directors has been formed to study all phases of the emergency service at PCHA hospitals.

The emergency services at Annapolis, Outer Drive and Seaway hospitals now include helicopter landing pads. A similar service will exist at the new site of the Beyer Memorial Hospital.

The increases in services at the four PCHA unit hospitals have been significant. Examples from Annapolis Hospital reflect the patterns of increases in each of the hospitals: At Annapolis, the use of emergency services has increased nearly 17 percent. ...occupational therapy, nearly 16 percent. ...laboratories, nearly 9 percent. ...x-ray, nearly 10 percent.

AN AFFILIATION with Eastern Michigan University's proposed School of Nursing will involve Beyer Memorial and Annapolis hospitals as facilities for clinical instruction.

PCHA Executive Director Karl S. Klicka, M.D., continues as a lecturer on the faculty of the Program in Hospital Administration of the University of Michigan.

PCHA is cooperating with the University of Michigan in a research study of hospital effectiveness. A Federal Grant has been approved only recently for this study which will be conducted by the U-M School of Hospital Administration.

A co-op program with Inkster High School has begun as a pilot program with Annapolis Hospital providing clinical training for the students.

Coronary Care units have been established in each of the PCHA hospitals; occupational therapy departments have been added to Seaway and Beyer Memorial Hospitals, following the success of occupational therapy departments at Annapolis and Outer Drive Hospitals.

A CHILD GUIDANCE clinic will be established at Seaway Hospital. It will be the second Downriver Child Guidance Clinic and will continue to provide its own operating funds and staff. Only one other hospital-related clinic exists in the state.

A slide film story of PCHA has been prepared by the Public Relations and Education Committee of the Board of Directors and is available to community groups.

TO THE EDITOR:

The Christmas Candy Sale, sponsored by the Belleville Area Lions Club was a huge success.

This was made possible only because of the generous publicity of your newspaper, and the warm-hearted citizens of Belleville, Romulus and Sumpter.

The monies collected will enable the Lions Club to further their work of aiding the blind of our area, and to assist the less sighted citizens, who may not be in a position to afford clinical attention.

We want to thank everyone who contributed to this worthy cause, and on behalf of the Lions Club, we wish to extend our thanks and Best Wishes for a Happy and Healthy New Year to all area residents.

Vocational Education

How can education meet the ever-changing occupational challenges today and in the years ahead?

Far too frequently, a general high school diploma is a ticket to an unskilled job. Unless significant changes in the structure of vocational education are made, society may see large numbers of young people unprepared to contribute.

Society, through its concern for the unemployed, has placed a high value on employability. Educators must be willing to respond positively to present day job skill requirements.

VOCATIONAL EDUCATION is absolutely essential to our continual growth. It is not and never has been the exclusive jurisdiction of the formal education system.

U.S. industry's in-plant and on-the-job training programs suggest that there are workable alternatives to our inadequate public vocational education system.

Business and industry must assume the leadership role in "work education." If we are to have a sufficient number of adequately trained workers, instead of hard-core unemployed, then technical skills must be nurtured by educators, parents, and members of industry.

Through this combined effort we can develop the skills necessary to keep America growing!

THE PINES

Points of pines make jagged outlines
Against the autumn sky,
Singing pines roaring like surf,
Whenever the wind is high.

Pines and wind and water, all
Remind of colder days
Passing summer, coming autumn,
And campfire's smokey haze--

Remind us of the changing colors
That ushered in the falls--
Greens that changed to red and orange,
And brown cattails tall.

Bittersweet climbs on the fences,
And too, the golden sheen
Of black-eyed Susans meet the eye,
But pines don't change their green.

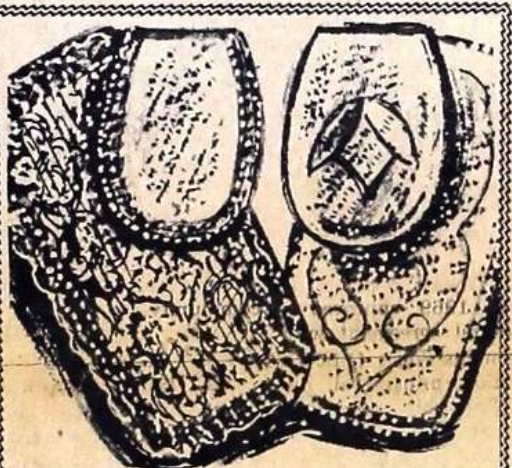

We love the pines and their music,
Love their lusty roar,
As winter winds set them singing
The songs that we adore.

Police Chief Koch Analyses Local Traffic Accidents

ROMULUS — Chief of Police Jacob J. Koch of Romulus, shuffled through a sheaf of accident reports on his desk today and came up with these comments:

"Vehicle number one skidded into intersection and struck vehicle number two immediately behind the driver's door."

Another: "Vehicle number two slid into the rear of vehicle one."

Or Another: "Vehicle failed to negotiate curve. Road condition: icy."

And still another: "Vehicle one side-swiped vehicle two in attempting to pass."

THE CHIEF pointed out that these reports all add up to one thing: One or more drivers in each of these cases badly misjudged his ability to stop or control his car on ice or snow-slick roads.

Chief Koch agreed that the problem was difficult for the average driver, and he cited several little known facts from test reports of the National Safety Council's Committee on Winter Driving Hazards:

Glare ice is the most treacherous. On such a surface, stopping, distances can stretch out to nine times the normal distance on dry pavement (149 feet on ice as opposed to 17 feet on dry pavement at a speed of 20 miles an hour).

Or put in other terms:

A DRIVER who can bring his car to a stop from 60 miles an hour in about 180 feet on dry pavement would have to be driving as slow as 22 miles an hour on ice to stop his car in 180 feet.

"That's where drivers like these make errors in speed judgments," Chief Koch said, returning to his accident reports.

And he listed tips from the International Association of Chiefs of Police to help drivers avoid skid-crashes:

Get the feel of the Road by trying your brakes lightly and away from traffic. You'll skid twice as far when the ice is 30 degrees than you will when the temperature is down around zero.

Reduce your speed.

Follow cars ahead at a much longer distance.

Accelerate, steer and brake gently. Plan every maneuver much farther ahead. Avoid sudden changes in direction.

Use traction aids -- that means snow tires or studded tires, and reinforced tire chains under the most adverse road conditions. Remember, too, that snow tires are made for snow. They give little or no advance over regular tires for stopping on ice.

"There's no better way to keep your name off a police department accident report than to use good judgment -- whether the weather's good or bad," the chief emphasized.

"These tips will help you 'winter-wise' your judgment," he concluded.

ROMULUS REPORTS GAINS

community is the industrial development and growth; the millions of dollars of valuation that have been added to the total in Romulus over the past year is highly indicative of the trend in our area. It is anticipated that this type of growth will continue in increasing amounts for several years to come.

The location of the 34th District Court on Eureka Road in Romulus was a major step in the area of Judicial operation. The building in which our court is headquartered is one of the finest in the state, one of which we can be justly proud.

THE COMPLETION of the first several public housing units was recently announced. At this particular time applicants are being processed by the Public Housing Commission with the ultimate aim of locating 101 deserving families in the units now under construction.

We also must recognize that while the residential growth of Romulus has not been of a mushrooming nature, its moderate construction has been satisfactorily keeping pace with the industrial demands for housing of locally employed people. Again, in this phase of development we can anticipate a great deal of residential construction growth both in the single family and multiple family areas.

The Township Board on Dec. 9, 1969 approved a contractual agreement with the Romulus Police Officer's Association, bringing all full time Township employees into binding agreement with the Township in matters of seniority, working conditions and fringe benefits.

IT IS noted that while many areas of dissatisfaction were existent in the past, the year 1969 brought greatly improved employer-employee relationships, indicating a healthy and cooperative attitude on both sides.

Certainly of major portent are the accomplishments of the Charter Commission in their endeavor to present to the voters of the Township early in 1970, a Charter which the Commission feels can be adopted and adapted to Romulus in City status.

Important also to the future of our community is the acquisition of some additional park sites and the local application to the State Department for "four to one" matching funds to develop some of our existing park sites.

The local application has been accepted and we are at this moment awaiting some indication from Lansing that funds have been approved for Romulus to improve our park sites.

ON THE DIM SIDE, we must recognize that once again red tape and the lack of Federal action is delaying our Urban Renewal program. However, the Township is diligently pursuing the efforts to get this program underway and has high hopes the year 1970 will see significant advances.

In spite of there being a lack of Supervisor leadership at Board level for almost six months of 1969, it is most noteworthy that the Township Board, once the Supervisor was elected, determined that 1969 could be most significant and improved by their cooperative action, and that the serious jobs facing them were merely challenges which were readily overcome by their determination to give to the people of Romulus those things which they so justly deserved.

To whom should we give thanks in recognition of their efforts to make such accomplishments realities?

We must thank, first of all, a cooperative Township Board which is vital to the administration of the government of any community.

WE MUST thank the Planning Commission for their foresightedness in recognizing the necessity for vast zoning changes, so important to the growth of our community; and we can't forget the diligent efforts of the Township Building Authority for the masterful job which they did in bringing our municipal complex into being.

We must also recognize the determined efforts of the Public Housing Commission and the vast amount of work accomplished by them in such a short period of time. Nor can we forget the fine efforts of the Industrial Development Coordinator Department and Committee, the accomplishments of which are spotted throughout the face of Romulus as existing industrial and commercial installations.

We must also remember the Charter Commission and its collective effort to give to Romulus an intelligent and workable charter.

We must thank particularly all of the Administrative Departments in the Township and the employees who have exhibited a most cooperative attitude toward the administration.

Finally, we must give thanks to the residents of Romulus who have over the years, exhibited such patience and understanding in the face of the problems which we have encountered over the years, and their attitude and cooperation with the administration in a combined effort to make our community a better place in which to live and raise our families.

YES, 1969 was a most difficult year, but one of which will be long remembered for the many important things which were accomplished.

State Kidney Foundation Gets 13 New Machines

ANN ARBOR—Thirteen artificial kidney machines have been added to the kidney loan closet, operated by the Michigan Kidney Foundation, through the efforts of the statewide Daughters of Isabella.

Purchase of the 13 new machines, costing $3,000 each, was announced by Mrs. Jerome Kozlowski, of New Baltimore, state regent of the Daughters of Isabella, at a dinner meeting held in Southfield.

The 75 circles of the statewide organization met their goal of raising $40,000 for the purchase of the machines through the recent Christmas Charity Fair held at the Michigan State Fairgrounds.

MORE THAN 20,000 persons attended. Approximately 1,500 of the 15,000 Michigan Daughters of Isabella helped to man 32 booths and refreshments stands 12 hours daily during the two-day fair.

Prominently on exhibit was an artificial kidney demonstration unit, explained by patients who have prolonged their lives through the use of similar machines.

The Michigan Kidney Foundation, with headquarters in Ann Arbor, maintains the kidney loan closet for residents in the state who cannot survive without one of the machines, but who have insufficient funds for treatment.

COST OF treatment in a hospital runs from $10,000 to $12,000 annually, according to the foundation. But with the aid of a relative or friend, home treatment can be provided for from $3,000 to $5,000 yearly.

It is estimated that 300 Michigan residents die every year for lack of artificial kidney facilities.

DEE AND DUM—Tweedle Dee and Tweedle Dum join in the madcap antics of the Un-Birthday Party in the "Alice in Wonderland" portion of "Disney on Parade," opening today, (Wednesday Jan. 7) at Olympia Stadium for nine shows. The party and the rest of the 2½-hour spectacular will be performed on a giant 180-foot stage.

'Disney on Parade' Opens Five-day Run

DETROIT—The world's largest stage will be employed at Olympia Stadium, today (Wednesday Jan. 7) when "Disney on Parade," a new live touring show, opens in Detroit for five days.

The stage measures 180' x 80', and will be used in the 26 American-Canadian cities that the show plays in 1970. "It's more of a portable theatre than a stage," explained Bob Jani, producer-director of "Disney on Parade." "Besides the stage, we have a 56-foot high proscenium and complete backstage area large enough to house nearly 200 props and other equipment.

"ABOVE THE 16-foot high proscenium opening, there is a gigantic screen for rear projections. And complementing the stage is a totally self-contained sound system which will encompass the audience in stereophonic music as alive as though it were the soundtrack from a major motion picture."

The portable staging floor is a unique first. It was specially designed to fit comfortably into any sports arena or civic auditorium. In the center of the floor is a large 24-foot turntable for use in the production numbers, and around the floor is a six-foot wide honeycomb fiberglass border containing sound sensitive colored lights which flicker and shine to the beat of the music. "It sort of frames the whole floor," Jani said.

The production, which is co-produced by Walt Disney Productions and the National Broadcasting Company (NBC) is also the most expensive production ever to tour the country. The total cost of the package was $2,500,000. Over $750,000 was spent in costumes.

HONEYMOON IN ENGLAND

Beasecker-Emerson Nuptials Read In Holiday Setting

Holiday wreaths, red and white poinsettias, and Christmas greens graced the altar of the First United Presbyterian Church, in Plymouth, Saturday, December 20, as Barbara June Emerson and Robert Francis Beasecker exchanged nuptial vows.

The candlelight ceremony at twelve-thirty in the afternoon, read by Rev. Henry J. Walch, united the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Andrew Emerson, of 1339 Elm Street, Plymouth, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Beasecker, of 309 Liberty Street, Belleville.

ESCORTED TO the altar by her father, Barbara appeared in a Victorian creation of ivory peau de soie fashioned with a shirred bodice trimmed with Val lace. Her high stand-up collar and full-length sleeves were in matching fabric and her toe-touching peau skirt drifted into a chapel train as she walked.

MRS. ROBERT F. BEASECKER

Her matching Juliet cap was studded with seed pearls and ivory peau de soie ribbons. Completing her bridal finery was a Christmas bouquet featuring one large white poinsettia backed with variegated holly and pine tufts.

The bride's cousin, Jean L. Stevenson, came from New York City to serve as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Sandra J. Brash, another cousin from Muskegon, and Mrs. Geoffrey Neithercut, of Albion.

Identically dressed, the trio donned full-length gowns of ivory and brown lace over taffeta with mandarin necklines and long, full sleeves. Each carried a large red poinsettia designed to match the bride's bouquet.

RICHARD D. GARDNER, of Belleville, was asked to be best man. Others on the esquire side were William R. Rekshan, of Belleville, and John D. Post, of Ypsilanti.

Immediately after the ceremony a dinner reception for 80 guests was held at the Round Table Club of Plymouth. Guests from Florida, Texas, New York, Wisconsin, and the cities of Plymouth, Belleville, Ann Arbor, Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills, Muskegon, Albion, Detroit and New Boston, congratulated the young couple. Among those attending were three grandmothers of the bride and groom: Mrs. Harry S. Starr, of Plymouth; Mrs. Lloyd A. Westover, of Muskegon; and Mrs. John S. Emerson, of North Muskegon.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Emerson selected a gown of deep blue silk and wool worsted styled with long fitted sleeves and a cut jewel-trimmed bodice. A corsage of white sweetheart rosebuds was pinned to her handbag.

Mrs. Beasecker, mother of the bridegroom, donned a gown of champagne peau de soie with turquoise accents. Her accessories were in matching tones and she carried her white cymbidium orchid on her purse.

FOR TRAVELING to London, England on a two weeks honeymoon, the new Mrs. Beasecker changed to a navy and white wool dress with matching accessories. On their return the newlyweds will make their home at 1737 Cram Circle, Ann Arbor.

Barbara graduated from Albion College in June and was a member of Alpha Xi Delta Sorority. Her new husband is a June graduate of Hillsdale College where he was affiliated with Delta Sigma Phi Fraternity and Phi Mu Alpha Music Fraternity. He is currently attending the University of Michigan Graduate School of Library Science.

Pre-nuptial parties included two showers given by Mrs. James E. Starr and the school staff of New Boston Junior High School. The rehearsal dinner for 22 people, held at the Round Table Club, was hosted by the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Beasecker.

Another Year, More Memories

THE YEARS PASS and the nostalgia gets thicker with each decade. We look back on all the good years we've seen and all the happiness we've been blessed with — good health, a fine family, the greatest friends — and hope we'll be as fortunate in the years to come.

The wish is extended a thousand fold to everyone who happens to be reading the first of 1970's "Around Town" columns this first Wednesday of the year.

Those Nice People

ARE YOU one of the many who's admired our municipal Christmas tree at Five Points these past years? You might like to know the tree was made possible in 1968 and '69 through the courtesy of Mrs. Viola McNally. Two big blue spruces are now missing from her front yard on W. Columbia Avenue — given to the City for the pleasure of the community.

Wonder how many times people have exclaimed over "our" tree as they pass by the little island? Our thanks, Mrs. McNally!

Hello to 1970

NEW YEAR'S toasts began early in the evening for some 20 couples who answered invitations to Tom and Shirley Books' open house New Year's Eve. Guests began arriving at their Sunrise Lane home around six and tapered off at nine when most of them made their way to E. Huron Drive and the R. Lynne Hamilton home.

Lynne and Lois (who'd been one of the earlier arrivals at the Books') dashed home in time to greet their own party guests — some 46 in all. Dancing and socializing were capped with a one a.m. co-op dinner, each of the gals having zapped up their favorite dish to add to the buffet table.

THREE OF the Books-Hamilton guests managed to squeeze the Art Hill's holiday gala in between their parties — the Landy Boxes, the Dick Muses and the Darryl Raymonds doing the party-hopping bit.

They exchanged best wishes with some eight other couples whose invitations to the Van Allen Drive celebration read 8:30 p.m.

THE TOM HUDGES played host, too, at a farewell to '69. Hello '70 party in their Sumpter Road home. Joining them for the evening and mid-night toast were Tom and Colleen Sexton of Wayne; Joe and Jan Ross from Garden City; John and Clara Bokan and daughters, Mary and Kathy; Dick and Pat Magnus, Jim and Shirley Hudge, and Jim and Joan Posegay, and Jim and Barb Lewis.

The Brunch Bunch

THE SUNDAY between the holidays was the date set for Bill and Flo Hudge's Yuletide brunch. Arriving at their Elwell Road home after morning mass were the Art Hills, the Joe Lorias, the Ed Huges, the Bert Smiths, and the Ron Sierotas.

Others on their guest list were Harvey and Elaine Stabnagh, Ray and Lil Weber, and Lieb and Gwen Liebler who were in from an earlier brunch at the Robert Fraser's.

Leaving the Hudge's the group went in various directions for a variety of reasons — the Hills to gather up their daughter, Laurie, and the Smith girls, Susie and Carol, for a dinner-movie date in celebration of Laurie's upcoming 10th birthday; the Lorias off to Warren for a visit with his mother; the Ed Huges driving to Wyandotte for daughters, Nancy and Nora, who'd week-ended with their grandmother, Mrs. Wilfred Kane; and the Smiths to join friends for "Hello, Dolly" at the Americana Theater in Southfield.

ALSO WRITING 'our brunch' on their social calendar were Bob and Helen Fraser of Harmony Lane. Their beautifully-decorated home was alive from 11:30 'til three as some 20 friends from Dearborn and Belleville joined them for their festive party. The highlight of the afternoon was a fast-moving game involving the 'white elephants' which the group was asked to bring along.

Then for New Year's Eve the Frasers motored to their club for the traditional black tie dinner-dance. Among the 14 in their party at the Western Golf and Country Club near Detroit were Wylie and Lee Reel and Jack and Edie Hink, all of Stanley Drive, and Al and Dena Cicotte of Lilac Lane.

Holiday Guests

RECENT VISITORS at the Clifford Smith home on W. Huron River Drive were their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Pope, and their three daughters, Aune, Frances and Hiedi, from Spring Lake, Michigan.

During their stay the family phoned their son, Sp/4 Michael J. Smith, at Eilson Air Force Base in Fairbanks, Alaska.

Mike, who expects to be discharged from service today (January 7) and his wife, Luinda, (who's been employed in the library of the University of Alaska) will return to the Mainland with several other G.I. families. The group plans to form a wagon train for their trek back to the 'lower 48' on January 9. They hope to cover the 4,000 mile route in eight days.

Mr. Smith, who's going to follow his son's caravan via letters and phone calls, says he'll keep us posted as to any incidents which may occur on the long journey homeward.

Two Candles for Bobbie

LITTLE BOBBIE Lewis, who was a New Year's Day baby two years ago, was the subject of much attention Thursday as relatives helped to celebrate the event.

Arriving at the home of his parents, Jim and Barbara Lewis, (who are in their new locale on Debra Court) were his grandparents, the John Bokons, with Kathy and Johnnie; Joe and Jan Ross with Joey and Julie from Garden City; Harry and Rose Melidosian and sons, Mark and Brian; Stanley Sietz and daughter, Mary Alice, from Ypsilanti (the remainder of the family vacationing in Florida); Mary Kay Bokon; and Tom and Grace Hudge and their three children.

The birthday dinner at two was sandwiched in between the Tournament of Roses Parade and the big games which followed.

In from Sunny South

THE DAVID DUBISKYS returned to their Savage Road home on the 30th after a week's sojourn in sunny Florida. Jetting southward they were the houseguests of Dave's brother and wife, Don and Jane Dubisky, and their foursome, Craig, Toni, Eric, and Donny, of Bocca Raton (formerly of Belleville).

For Christmas Eve the visitors and their hosts were guests of another former Belleville couple, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Gielinski, who were entertaining visitors from Belleville, Rose and Ray Gratoski, and from Wayne, Connie and Joanne Gielinski and children.

The travelers arrived home in time to host a New Year's Eve party with members of Mrs. Dubisky's family attending — her mother, Mrs. Marian Collins, and the Ronald Smiths, all of New Boston; and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Simons from Romulus.

Fun in Flint

EXCEPT for the driving conditions, New Year's Day was a real fun-filled day for the Roger Fergusons and their trio, Leslie, Shawn and Shari, who motored to Flint for their traditional start-of-the-year party with Diane's uncle and aunt, the Richard Jahnckes.

Also driving up were the Arthur Shephards and son, Brian, and Jim Shephard and his fiancée, Pat Sliwa, with her snow-mobile in tow.

Having a lovely, fresh snowfall, the group took advantage of the perfect winter day and, following a turkey dinner, did the sledding, tobogganing and snow-mobile bit on the Jahncke's acreage which borders on the edge of a woods and near the Flint River.

Once you have the facts,
you'll open a Security
Time Savings Account!

QUESTION 1: Is there a difference in interest rates?

Answer: No, but there is a difference in the way interest is computed. Our interest rate on time savings accounts, like everyone else's, is 5%. However, ours is compounded continuously! This means that your money is working for you, every minute of every day.

QUESTION 2: How much money do I need to open a Security Time Savings Account?

Answer: Unlike some time savings plans, $1,000.00 is all it takes!

QUESTION 3: How much money must I deposit in order to add to my account?

Answer: You may deposit $50 or more in your account, at any time. This is the lowest minimum deposit requirement available in the area!

QUESTION 4: Do you offer a periodic statement?

Answer: We feel it's important for you to know what your money is doing. As a result, at the end of each calendar quarter, you'll receive a statement that shows transactions made and interest earned. At the end of the year, we'll send you a special statement, for tax purposes.

QUESTION 5: What about withdrawals?

Answer: You'll be able to withdraw savings that have been on deposit for a full calendar quarter, during the first 10 days of each succeeding quarter, without notice, or at any time with 90 days advance (the minimum legal requirement) written notice. You'll earn maximum interest until the day of withdrawal.

QUESTION 6: What can I do with interest earned?

Answer: We'll be happy to credit interest to your Security Time Savings Account, another account, or mail you a quarterly check. The choice is yours.

QUESTION 7: What about a passbook?

Answer: You will receive a handy passbook-type folder in which to keep all of your records.

There you have it . . . seven good reasons for opening a Security Time Savings Account. No bank pays more, but one does more!

When it comes to banking,
Security is all you need!

Jehovah's Witnesses List Bible Speakers

BELLEVILLE-Four local residents, associated with the Belleville Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, have been appointed as program speakers for the semi-annual Bible Convention to be held at their Assembly Hall, 10709 Grand River, Detroit, the week-end of Jan. 9-11.

Harvey Bourke, Roger Onufer, David McWilliams, and Wayne Schultz all of Belleville will present their discourses to over 1,000 delegates representing eight congregations of Jehovah's Witnesses in Michigan Circuit No. 5B.

The purpose of the assembly is to help the Witnesses increase their skill and efficiency as ministers through these Bible training conventions, which the Watchtower Society sponsors every six months in 195 countries of the earth. Jehovah's Witnesses receive the most thorough training possible in the ministry.

This training is not limited merely to the male members of the congregation, but women and youths are also privileged to engage in missionary work, especially since the Bible gives so many examples of their activity in this field.

Key speaker on the program appearing daily will be A. A. Catanzaro from the organization's World Headquarters in Brooklyn, New York.

His public Bible discourse, "True Worship Versus the False" will climax the assembly, Sunday, January 11. All sessions will be free to the public.

Speeds that may be safe in summer are murder on ice and snow, warns the Michigan State Safety Commission. The distance required to bring a vehicle to a safe stop on slippery surfaces may be three to nine times that needed on dry pavement, according to the National Safety Council.

Pre-School Nursery Observes Christmas

ROMULUS-The Romulus Township YWCA Pre-School Nursery observed Christmas on Dec. 18 with all the excitement and enthusiasm that 32 little folk under six years can generate.

There was plenty to be excited about too. Not only was there a tree and gifts and food, but there was dear old Santa himself.

The nursery holds sessions twice a week in the Special Services Building, located on Washington Street, and for weeks the preparations have been under way for the "party".

BECAUSE THE nursery is self-supporting and non-profit there was not a lot of money that could be spent, but donations from nursery mothers and friends were more than ample.

Frank Strynawski donated individually wrapped pop corn balls. Mrs. Donald Kouba brought a case of fruit punch. Mrs. Mary Ann Guenthardt gave cookies. Mrs. Carole Rarick made cupcakes and Mrs. Betty Satterlee brought candy canes.

Mrs. Jeannie Ursery, and Mrs. Ann Fischer helped Mrs. Marie Bird, supervisor, keep things orderly.

Plymouth Trouble Shooting Contest Lists 1970 Changes

BOSTON, MASS.-Major improvements in the nation-wide Plymouth Trouble Shooting Contest were announced here during the 63rd annual convention of the American Vocational Association.

John H. Moore Jr., national manager of the Trouble Shooting Contest for the Chrysler-Plymouth Division, said the following improvements will become effective with the 1970 contest:

First place scholarship awards will be increased 25 per cent to $5,000.

The two high school classifications-vocational education and industrial arts-will be combined into a single competing high school unit. Post-high schools, added to the contest in 1969, will continue to compete as a separate unit.

WITH THE scholarship increase and the consolidation of the two high school classifications, the total scholarship structure will be revised and increased for the National Finals to be held on the straightaway of the famed Indianapolis "500" Speedway on June 15, 16, and 17.

First through 10th place will be offered scholarships in the high school classification, while they will be offered to the first through fifth place winners in the post-high school classification.

A total of $37,000 in scholarships will be offered, an increase of $2,500 over the 1969 amount.

In both classifications, the first place teams are offered $5,000 in scholarships; second $4,000; third $3,000; fourth $2,000; and fifth $1,500.

In the high school classification, the sixth place team will be offered $1,400 in scholarships; seventh $1,300; eighth $1,200; ninth $1,100; and tenth $1,000.

THESE CHANGES will better serve the purpose of the Trouble Shooting Contest, Moore said, which is to encourage more mechanically-minded students to complete their education and to seek rewarding careers as auto mechanics.

Moore said the 1970 Trouble Shooting Contest will be the largest in the 21-year history of this youth-oriented event. More than 2,000 schools from all 50 states-with a total auto shop enrollment of more than 150,000 students-are expected to compete in the 1970 contest.

Students are competing for more than $125,000 worth of scholarships and prizes.

THE CONTEST, sponsored by the Plymouth dealers of America and the Chrysler-Plymouth Division, consists of a dual competition, a written exam worth 30 per cent of the team's final score and a mechanical competition that is worth 70 per cent.

Since the Trouble Shooting Contest was originated by Plymouth in 1949, more than 16,000 students have been placed in full or part-time jobs as auto mechanics, and since the contest became a national event in 1962, scholarships have been made available to 146 students.

Two Growth Areas Cited

Retirement communities and nursing homes are expected to be two of the biggest growth areas in real estate in 1970, according to a University of Michigan professor.

Professor Karl G. Pearson, director of the U of M program in real estate education, stated that increased life expectancy and proportionately more people of retirement age; earlier retirements; desire for independence in the later years, and the means to gratify this desire; and the pleasure of consort with one's peers, were major factors.

Pearson pointed out that retirees want a comfortable but not demanding home; near churches, shopping centers and convenient transportation.

HE ALSO noted that not all retirees want to migrate south, many may wish to stay in the communities where they have roots, to be close to friends and relatives and have ready access to interstate highways to take them to cities.

Along with the growth in retirement communities, Pearson predicts a corresponding growth of nursing homes.

He expects that chains of nursing homes will develop which, in terms of beds available, will have more space than regular hospitals.

Medicare, Medicaid and other welfare programs will contribute more than half of the revenue necessary for their operation, he said.

SAYS EDUCATOR

Student Dissatisfaction Due to Teacher Failure

Student dissatisfaction with the college classroom experience, whatever the cause, is attributable to teacher failure, according to a University of Michigan vice president.

Allen F. Smith, vice president for academic affairs and former law dean, asserted in an essay for faculty members, that the learning process is inhibited if there is a communication failure, lack of respect, lack of rapport or lack of inspiration.

In recent years, far greater efforts have been made to obtain student evaluation of teaching performance. Students are expert on at least one thing, Smith stated, and that is to report on their personal experience derived from the classroom.

FOR ANYONE to assert that promotion and retention of a teacher should not be the result of a popularity contest is to deny any validity to such evaluation.

Smith cites failure of peers to visit classrooms of young instructors arises from the fear that their presence will inhibit the freedom of individual teaching techniques.

He believes that attitude should be changed and that regular review of teaching performance should be made by departmental members.

"INDEED" SAID Smith, "the experienced and good teacher ought, in my judgment, to be willing to devote a part of his time to such visitation."

He further believes that if a young instructor is prepared, he will understand that such visits are intended to help him.

1970 Parade of Idea Homes to Open Jan. 10

A home and apartment builders' spectacular — the 1970 Parade of Idea Homes — is set to open at noon Saturday, Jan. 10.

Twenty-six homes and apartments, all started and finished in 1969, are ready for the six-week open house. They represent an investment in land, site preparation, construction and furnishings of a million and a half dollars.

In all cases, the builders have listed their prices, which range from what is considered a modest $21,990 to upward of $70,000. In every home fashioned with the latest materials and furnishings the utmost in value in keeping with modern trends is going on display.

LESTER S. BURTON, newly elected president of the BAMD, said he had inspected some of the homes and planned to see all of them during the six-week open house. He added that he was "truly impressed" with the quality of the homes and surprised that so many new items in home equipment are showing in the "Idea" models.

Two of the builders are opening apartments for the 1970 parade. These are rental units ranging from $175 up.

The utilities which supply gas, electricity and water to the homes are deeply interested in the 1970 parade, as are the manufacturers of furnishings and appliances such as stoves, dishwashers, disposers and other useful and labor-saving devices.

INTERESTING NEW designs will be found in kitchens, family rooms, and other components of the homes — making them truly houses of ideas.

As in former years, the Parade of Idea Homes is the traditional prelude to the Builders Home, Furniture and Flower show at Cobo Hall. The dates of the show this year are Feb. 22 through March 1.

A $20,000 grand prize, which will be given away after the show, is tied into the Parade of Idea Homes. The person who estimates correctly the number of nails in a small plastic house will get the $20,000, or that amount toward the purchase of one of the homes.

Burton said that advance sales of tickets to the Cobo Hall show indicated a record turnout this year.

Schools Reopen, Caution is Urged

School bells are ringing again after the holiday break and all motorists should remember their own ABC's of driving where school children are likely to be — Always Be Careful!

And the area where children are likely to be, Robert C. Greening, the Michigan Trucking Association's Director, points out, extends far beyond the so-called school zone.

"In general," Greening says, "school zone signs are posted about 500 feet in advance of the school as a warning and as a protection for children who must cross the street to get to school. These signs cannot—and do not—provide any protection for large numbers of children who will be walking along the streets — and crossing them — several blocks from the school. The protection of these children is primarily the responsibility of each driver."

ALSO, WATCH out for school buses, Greening warns. Know the laws pertaining to school buses in the area where you are driving. And be careful about passing regular buses which are stopped.

Children who ride school buses are usually taught to cross in front of the bus, since traffic normally halts for a stopped school bus. Sometimes, however, when these same children ride regular buses, they forget and walk in front of those vehicles, too."

Community College Has New Grading System

As it opens its second semester Jan. 5, Wayne County Community College continues to build a tradition of innovation with a two way student grading and teacher evaluation system.

The system is designed to be rewarding rather than punitive to both students and instructors at the newly formed college.

Located in 27 Instructional Centers across the County, W.C.C.C. rewards students for their accomplishments with the grades "A", "B", "C".

THE TRADITIONAL grades of "D" and "E" have been eliminated since they tend to be punitive indications of failure.

W.C.C.C. recognizes its students to be mature adults who are devoting both time and money to furthering their educations. If they are unsuccessful in their course work it is usually an indication of weaknesses in their educational background rather than a lack of effort to master the course material.

If a W.C.C.C. student does not master his course material well enough to take the next higher course he is given a letter "X" and may repeat the course without lowering his grade average. In this way students are motivated to build a firm academic foundation which will insure their success in future courses.

Instructors at W.C.C.C. are in turn evaluated by their students on such matters as their presentation of material, their testing procedures, and their grading.

THESE EVALUATIONS are given to the instructor to help him in analyzing how well he is communicating with his students, and in determining means of improving his teaching methods. These evaluations are particularly useful in the community college situation since experience has shown community college teaching to be distinct from both high school and university teaching.

W.C.C.C. students return from the holidays for registration beginning the week of Jan. 5, at each of the Instructional Centers.

Counselors were available at each Center and will continue registration during the first week of classes beginning Jan. 12.

Late registration is possible only at the W.C.C.C. Main Office, 4612 Woodward, Jan. 19-22, 9 a.m. to 10 p.m.

ALTHOUGH MOST W.C.C.C. classes are held in the evening, five Centers have been established for students who prefer daytime classes. These Centers are:

Huron Center, 24820 Meriman in New Boston; Eastland Center, Concourse

A, Eight Mile and Kelly Road; Detroit Repertory Theatre, 13103 Woodrow Wilson; the 12th Street Academy, 9011 12th Street; and the Downtown Branch-YWCA, 2230 Witherell.

The YWCA-Center offers the unique feature of pre-school child-care facilities in conjunction with the Introduction to Psychology course offered Tuesdays between 10 a.m. and 12:30 p.m. Child-care will cost only $15 for the full 15 week semester.

Admission to Wayne County Community College is on an "Open-Door" basis. Anyone over 19 years of age, or younger than 19 and a high school graduate will be admitted.

Tuition is a low $9 per credit hour for residents, $12 per credit hour for non-residents. For information call 832-2300.

Plastics Are Going Thing In Homes of the 1970's

PLASTIC... too often the word "plastic" brings to mind such synonyms as "cheap," "imitation," "temporary."

Today, manufacturers are producing furniture that is attractive, stylish, durable, economical, easy to care for and plastic.

On display at the American Furniture Mart for the January 1970 International Home Furnishings Market are hundreds of new furniture items that are made wholly or in part of plastic. They are uniquely plastic as acrylic tables, chairs, dining room groups, beds and lamps, or created to duplicate wood, metal, leather, copper and other materials, including fabrics.

Plastics offer many advantages that wood cannot. Plastics offer flexibility of design to meet the designer's imagination. They can be used to create delicate details that would be prohibitively expensive to duplicate in wood—even if the skilled artisans were available. Many of the Mediterranean and Spanish-inspired furniture items are shown with plastic overlays. If door and drawer panels were carved of wood, minor differences would result. In plastic, each panel is the same, made from the same mold and set into the door or drawer.

Plastics can also be bent and shaped to create new designs and free-flowing forms made to fit the human form.

Much of the wooden furniture with overlays of plastic is matched so carefully that even the texture and color of the original is duplicated. Yet, the furniture does not require the extra care and protection normally necessary for wood.

Many antiques are re-created in plastic for everyday use without having to worry about age, weakened parts or children, since plastic gives the piece added strength and durability.

Most plastic furniture does not scratch, mar or burn from daily use. Nor does it discolor. If an item does scratch, the scratch is not evident since color is baked into and throughout the whole piece.

Because plastic is consistently the same, a homemaker can buy several pieces now and add on later without having to worry that the wood will be different in color or quality. Often, too, designs remain the same.

Many furniture items in plastic are molded or cast in fewer pieces, thus decreasing the number of joints that have to be glued or nailed and decreasing the chance of loosened joints.

Since plastic is impervious to humidity, mildew, rot, water and other damage, it has been widely used for outdoor furniture for many years. These benefits also prevent drawers and doors from sticking or shrinking.

The current trend toward modern design has boosted the sale of plastic furniture. In the traditional lines, the decreasing supply of wood and the lack of qualified woodcarvers, blended with the increased demand for furniture, are providing a market for plastics.

As the demands for plastics increase and the jobs they are required to fill expand, chemical companies are meeting the challenge with new combinations of plastic that continue to add to the quality of the furniture.

Wood-like plastics no longer have a smooth texture. They duplicate the grain, wormholes, discolorations and defects of the original piece of wood. Glass-like acrylics have the advantage of pure color without the color defraction around the edges normal to glass. Or, they can be colored in all the shades of the rainbow in hues that are brilliant or opaque, vibrant or muted.

As fibers, plastics are knit, woven, cut, dyed and shaped to create upholstery that is soft, plush knobby, textured, smooth, bright—all easy to care for.

Many furnishings are also treated with chemical coatings to give them protection from spills and normal everyday use.

Grandmother, and even mother, often had to keep away from pale shades, whites, velvets and other delicate materials or keep them covered with slip covers.

Today, you can select white or pastels, velvets and brocades without having to cover your furniture or use throw rugs on your pale carpetings. You can use your furniture AS IT IS because it has been created for long life with ease of care.

The reason? Plastic.

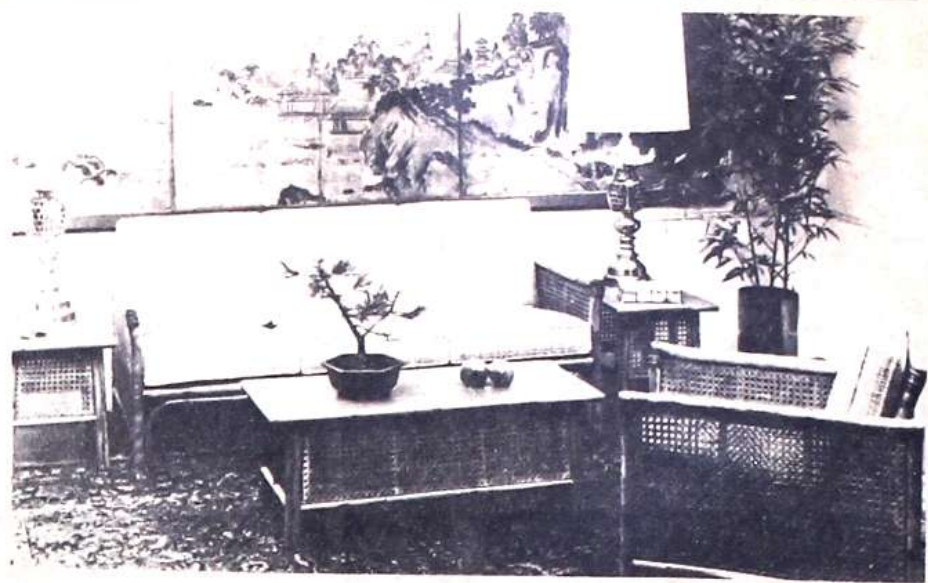

And you can get plastic furnishings for every room in your house and for every function. No longer need you confine plastic to your kitchen, den or the outdoor patio.

Styling, variety, quality all combine to give you furniture and fabrics that you can be proud to display.

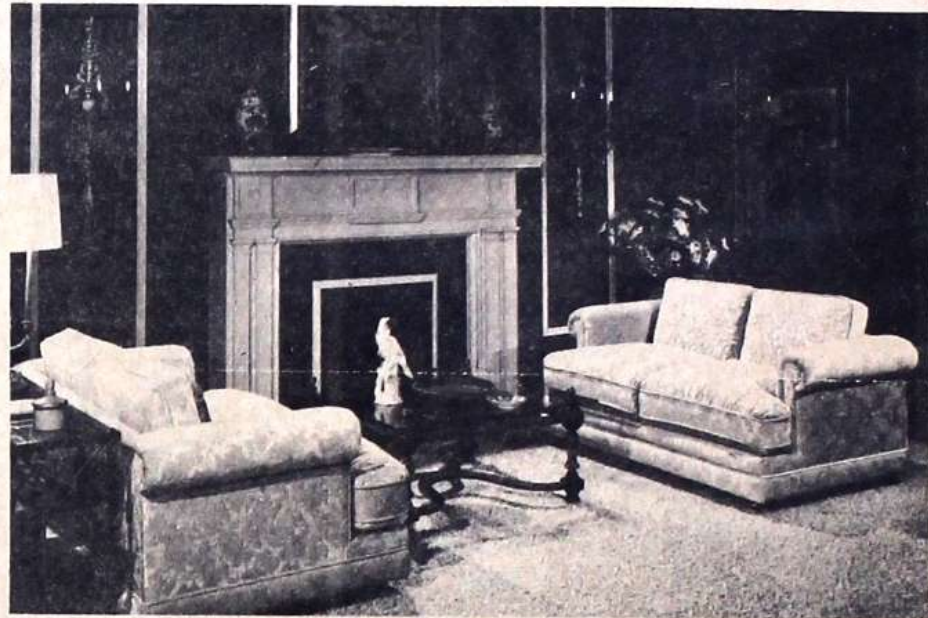

Completes Basic

ROMULUS—Airman Roy D. Bigham, son of Mr. and Mrs. William D. Bigham of 39226 Superior, has completed basic training at Lackland AFB, Tex.

He has been assigned to Chanute AFB, Ill., for training in weather services. Airman Bigham, a 1968 graduate of Romulus High School, attended Lawrence Institute of Technology.

ORIENTAL-INSPIRED LIVING room setting features the new Europa rattan grouping from Hurricane International. Furnishings are vine wood rattan in fruitwood finish with cane backs and sides. Setting was designed by Charles C. Worth for the "America at Home—1970" program at the American Furniture Mart.

FORMAL, YET INVITING—this living room setting was designed by George Branson, NSID, for Flexsteel Industries, Inc., and is part of the collection of new "America at Home—1970" rooms on display at the American Furniture Mart. Transition furniture is covered in cut velvet and features quilted cushions and rolled arms.

Decorating Can Change Room Size

If every room were ideally designed, your decorating problems would be much fewer. But because many rooms are very definitely not well designed, due to whatever variances may have entered, you have to use a few tricks.

If the problem is a room that is practically square, you want to avoid turning it into a box. The trick is to give one wall a very different treatment than the other three. Try papering one with an attractive pattern, then painting the others in a plain color picked up from the patterned paper.

Is the problem a low ceiling? The answer is to emphasize vertical lines. Let draperies hang ceiling-to-floor, rather than keeping close to window top and bottom. Avoid using a valance or short drapes.

Reverse the process for the high ceilinged room. Top the window with a horizontal valance from which drapes can loop gracefully low. You can also "bring down" the ceiling by painting it with a warm tone. Large-sized furniture helps, too.

Perhaps you have the problem of a rather dark room. Widen the window effect by using extension drapery rods beyond the window margins.

Hanging the draperies actually beside the window, rather than over it, widens the visible glass and lets in all available light. When furnishing the room, try to use light wood and bright colors in upholstery, carpeting and draperies.

If you would like to make your room seem wider than it is, do it with mirrors—as the old-time magicians used to say.

SYMMETRICAL, clean lines combine with modern materials—chrome and glass—to form this handsome dining or game group from Kessler Industries, Inc. Room was created by Ellie Foster for the new "America at Home—1970" program at the American Furniture Mart. High style and easy maintenance make this setting ideal for any home. Plush, vivid colored carpeting adds warmth to the room, making it compatible with any decor.

Fashionable Furnishings Are Newest Addition to Home Scene

See-through, mini and maxi are fashion words that are equally applicable to the new home furnishings for 1970.

Manufacturers at the American Furniture Mart are introducing see-through acrylics in tables, chairs, beds, etageres, lamps and dozens of other home furnishings items at the January 1970 International Home Furnishings Market.

The maxi look will be evident in the large breakfronts molded sofas, dining rooms and master bedroom units.

The mini look is reappearing in Parson tables, dainty-legged French chairs, occasional pieces and modern lamps, as well as small scaled dinettes, beds, sofas, etc.

Colors, too, are following the fashion trends. Purple upholstery will be making news at this January 1970 Market. Purples in shades ranging from the deep, royal tones to the subtle lilacs and iced tones will be seen on sofas and chairs with a Mediterranean flair, Early American informality or traditional look.

Blues and greens will also be making a strong fashion statement, matched with the earth tones and neutrals introduced in previous seasons. Warm yellows, oranges, reds will be seen competing for attention with the color blues and greens in the upholstered lines.

Again this year, designers are featuring rooms with an eclectic "I like it" look... mixing colors, fabrics, patterns, textures and periods of furniture to create an individual look.

Formal French is making a reappearance, especially in accent pieces and matched with the Provincial styles and transitional furnishings.

Mediterranean, with its elaborate carvings and detailing, will continue to be strong this year. Evidence, however, is that Mediterranean will begin to lose its popularity to modern with its free-flowing forms and soft cushiony look.

Furniture that is molded and shaped for the human form; that shapes and changes to meet different uses (such as the bean-bag chair which is a plastic cover filled with styrene pellets that can be re-arranged to form a chair or lounge).

Modern coatings keep furniture free of scratches, burns, spots, chips and nicks and come clean with only a dust cloth.

Visual properties of the acrylic plastics add another dimension by serving a dual function as furniture and decor items. They can make a room seem larger, less crowded with furniture because they are transparent—whether clear or in bold, bright colors.

So, whether you are one of those who wears maxis, minis, or any styles in between, the furniture industry offers you home fashions for the 70's to complement, contrast and set the mood to highlight your personality.

New District Cage Alignment

Romulus, Belleville at EMU

It's been an old song in these parts: Ypsilanti is the team to beat.

But Romulus, along with four other area cage teams, may just change that tune when the six teams gather in March at Eastern Michigan University to battle it out for the District Championship.

Romulus will be a newcomer to the district which also includes "oldsters" Belleville, Cherry Hill, Wayne Memorial, John Glenn, and the host, Ypsilanti.

Ypsilanti, which not only is the defending Sauk Trail, District, Regional champ, also has reached the State Class A finals for the past two years, but has been unsuccessful in its bid for the state crown.

In other district basketball tournament assignments recently announced by the Michigan High School Athletic Association, prep coaches and teams will find several changes.

Robichaud will head for Melvindale High School instead of trekking to Dearborn as the Canines have done in the past. But Coach Owen Sudman will find his old district rivals waiting for him at the downriver school.

Along with defending district champ, Fordson, Robichaud will be pitted against Dearborn, Edsel Ford, and newcomers Dearborn Heights Annapolis and Melvindale.

Huron finds itself in the role of host for the first time. Coach Dave Court's Chiefs will be at home to Allen Park Cabrini, Flat Rock, Gibraltar Carlson, and Grosse Ile who'll be competing for a Class B district title.

Wayne St. Mary's will again head for Dearborn St. Alphonsus where, aside from the host, three others—Sacred Heart of Dearborn, Our Lady of Farmington and Novi are scheduled to vie for the District "C" title.

There will undoubtedly be a new district champ crowned at St. Al's. Divine Child, the defending titlist, has been shifted to Detroit St. Mary High's district.

Defending district champ, Garden City West, will find familiar rivals at Livonia Franklin when the Tigers launch the defense of their district crown—but there is also a new challenger this year.

Crestwood, which competed at the Dearborn district, in the past has been moved to Franklin and will be among those who will try to unseat West.

Also at Franklin will be Garden City East, Livonia Bentley and Stevenson.

Inkster, one-game away from what could have been a state championship year last season, will head for Northville High School where Dearborn Heights Riverside, Livonia Churchill, Livonia Clarenceville, and the host will try to stop the Vikings from repeating as district champs.

Coach George Thompson's

quintet lost only two games last year—one to Rouge at the Regionals. Many fans believed that if Inkster would have gotten by the Panthers, they and not Rouge, would have won the coveted Class B State crown.

The district playoffs are scheduled to begin the first week of March.

Tigers Change Image

By JIM BRADLEY

Hope springs eternal in the human breast. Just ask Belleville basketball coach Allen Gates.

Despite losing two out of three in the Wayne Christmas Tourney over the holidays and currently possessing a disappointing season mark of 1-6, Gates looks forward to Friday's league match with Allen Park with enthusiasm.

The Tigers were thumped (Continued on 2nd Sports)

BACK TO WORK—Romulus' Charles Johnican (20) was his team's leading scorer in the initial half of the season. The fast-moving, rugged forward will try to continue his role as team leader when the Eagles launch the second half of their schedule Friday night as hosts to Twin-Valley Conference rival, Ecorse.

NO TOURNEY INVITATIONS

Scared of Eagles?

Coach Al Duva has probably his finest basketball team in his seven years at Romulus. He works hard at the game, playing a rugged schedule each year and developing some outstanding ballplayers. But he's a disappointed man. And maybe it's because he has developed a winning habit.

The reason for his displeasure is being left out of the Wayne Christmas Tourney for the past two years. The outspoken Duva pulls no punches when he says he feels he's being deliberately left out because his team has developed into a first-rate power in the area.

"But I would think those running the Christmas Tourney would want the best teams, instead of going with some of the teams they do," he said. "I'm not knocking anybody," he explained, "I just feel they should try for the best teams in the area, regardless of who they are. That way the brand of basketball would improve and the fans would pack the gyms to see the annual event."

Duva said he attended the Wayne Christmas Tourney and was surprised to see many vacant seats. He feels good basketball would fill the stands and he has others of the same opinion in the area.

Now Duva and his Eagles turn to Friday night's (Continued on 2nd Sports)

THE SPORTS MERIDIAN

By Tom Mooradian

A Bit of Psychology

A new year. A new decade. But the same ole blahs. No cure for that, I guess.

But, I finally found out why most of our high school football coaches suffered those Saturday morning blahs during the season, especially those coaches who had "20-to-20-yard line" blahs.

To explain for the unknowledgeables, "20-to-20" are teams composed of players who perform meticulously between their own 20 and the rival's 20-yard line, but when an opportune scoring moment arises, something goes wrong.

We had plenty of teams like that in the area, remember?

Well, believe it or not, coach, your player fumbles on those crucial plays because he has "guilt feelings." Honest to goodness, that's what this psychologist says.

According to "The Coach and the Psychologist" (that's where I obtained my info), the player is just overcome with his guilt feelings and everything goes wrong.

"He (the psychologist) says the closer a team comes to the other guy's goal line, the more fumbles, interceptions and penalties it should incur because the team experiences a feeling of guilt over its intrusion."

Now you know, coach.

But, I wonder if someone would explain why the winner doesn't suffer those same guilt feelings when he makes his intrusion?

Cage Crime & Punishment

Speaking of guilt, two Inkster lads were stripped of co-captaining the Vikings' cage squad this week and will end up on the bench until coach George Thompson Jr. decides if the punishment fits "the crime."

Veteran cagers Jerry Allison and Rickey Hatcher missed too many practices (that's the crime) during the holidays and that irked the Viking coach. (That would irk any coach to say the least).

"We have to have discipline and I have no alternative but to take away their co-captain responsibilities," said coach Thompson. "And the two boys will not start in the Ecorse game (scheduled for last night). What further action we take will be up to them."

We reminded the Viking coach that that could mean the end of his team's 5-game winning streak. It could also shatter their hopes for a league and district title.

Inkster beat Ecorse in the opening game of the season, 67-62, with the Vikings needing a last minute rally to shake the Raiders. Without the two regulars, Inkster would be in trouble.

"I realize that this may cost us plenty," said coach Thompson, "but our first responsibility is to teach and to develop mature adults."

"If these boys do not learn the meaning of responsibility now, they'll be in trouble after they get out of school and I would be delinquent in my job."

"It's important that they get a dose of discipline now," he added.

Well, maybe if that school administration of yours, George, would sanction holiday basketball tournaments for your team it may solve your problem.

I haven't heard of any Viking skipping a game, have you?

And I like this one by Mrs. George Wine:

"He's made his big decision
The fateful die is cast
The basketball star is going to get
His sideburns shaved at last."

STOP SIGN AHEAD—Belleville's Garrade Pettus (with ball) finds the corridor to the basket blocked by a Churchill cager. The Tigers, however, found their way past the Livonia quintet to register their first win of the season. Coach Allen Gates' quintet will seek their second victory Friday night when they take on Suburban Six Conference rival, Allen Park, on the home court.

Tigers Rule Chelsea Tourney

Belleville rookie wrestling coach Tom Fritz and his Tiger grapplers started off the new decade by winning their first major wrestling invitational.

The Tigers compiled a total of 78 points to rule the eight-team Chelsea Invitational held Saturday.

"It was awfully nice," said Coach Fritz who took over the coaching reins from Jim Richendollar last November. "We have a real young and promising team and I'm looking forward to even greater things from these kids."

"They're just great," he added.

Belleville grapplers came away with two gold medals and four runnerup berths which helped them beat out Lansing Haslett for top honors. Haslett placed second with 70 points while Dexter was third (58) and Adrian, fourth (56).

Following Adrian in the order of finish were the host, Chelsea (53); Romulus (40); Michigan Center (34) and Tecumseh (28).

Rick Phelps and Vic Ogletree emerged with titles in the 175 and 165 pound classes, respectively, for Belleville.

Phelps, after beating Hackett, of Tecumseh, 10-0, and Dave Brown of Romulus, 3-1, in the preliminaries and semis, respectively, clashed with Michigan Center's Kukulka in the finals.

The Belleville grappler came away with an 8-2 decision for the coveted gold medal.

Ogletree turned back Chelsea's Colvia in the final round 6-2 to capture his first. He also carded victories over Dexter's Stroud, 2-1, in the semi-final round and pinned Buckler, of Michigan Center in 3:50 to launch his assault on the gold medal.

Freshman Hose Garcia was pinned by Michigan Center's Holderman in the 98-pound match and Mike Bonnici surrendered to Haslett's Lovall, 8-2, in the 130-pound category. Those losses forced Garcia and Bonnici to settle for silvers.

Team mates Gary Krajewski was decided by two-time state champ, Carroll, 10-7, in the battle for the gold in the 145 pound (Continued on 2nd Sports)

Huron Retains Crown

Huron cagers appear to be forging a "hands off" policy for their Holiday Basketball Tournament trophy. The Chiefs, with a convincing show of power, shot down three challengers to retain the tourney title for the third consecutive year.

And Coach Dave Court's quintet was forced to shake off top-ranked Class C powerhouse, New Haven, in order to retain the championship.

New Haven, with 22 successive victories compiled in regular season play, clashed with the host in the finals and was able to make a game out of it for two quarters before yielding 79-54.

"What's made us a good team," said Coach Court who has padded his record to 6-2 for the season, "is our team pride. It's not just one individual that makes this team, but all of them working hard on defense as well as offense."

"We're going to be tough from now on," he said.

New Haven managed to stay abreast with the Chiefs in the first eight minutes as the Class C power fought its way to within one point, 11-10, of a first quarter tie.

Huron's 6-8 center Rick Wasilewski and Joe Richert, who came off the bench in the second quarter to fill in one of the guard slots, got things going for the Chiefs. Huron rushed ahead 34-26 at halftime.

Wasilewski dumped in 11 of his 25 points in the third quarter and Butch Suemnick came up with five to turn the close game into a runaway 60-41 in the third period.

Wasilewski, who shattered the Huron scoring record in the previous game against Roeper, finished the night with 11 buckets and three free throws for 25 points.

Suemnick chipped in 16 on three fielders and 10 free throws while Richert, who hauled down 14 rebounds and 13 points, collected five baskets from the field and three free throws.

Huron's Don Mittlestat, a 6-6 pivotman, emerged from the game with 13.

The Chiefs also realized 23 of their 33 opportunities at the free throw line.

New Haven received 15 points from Roy Lee, who led his team's scorers.

BELLEVILLE'S BROWN Going Up, Please

Eagles

After tangling with Ecorse, Romulus doesn't ease up as it travels to East Detroit and River Rouge before returning home to host Troy.

The Eagles have a 3-1 record and are averaging 73 points a game while holding their opponents to just 51. Frank Nesbit is playing the best all-around game, according to coach Duva.

The 6-5 senior forward, who may be moved to guard, is hitting 58% from the floor in netting 48 points and has only made 6 turnovers. Charles Johnican leads the team in scoring with 75 points, but has only hit on 35 of 93 shots for 37% and has turned over the ball 14 times.

Forward Nate Davis is shooting at a torrid pace of 18 for 35 from the field for 52% and leads with 70 rebounds, 38 off the defensive boards. Center Roy Szyndlar's 40 points have come on 14 for 31 (45%) and the big boy has hauled in 38 rebounds, just behind Nesbit's 55.

Guard Don Halimon leads the team in turnovers with 19 and Duva indicated he may go with Brian Shockley, a 6-2 senior, as his fifth starter against Ecorse. Nesbit also leads the team in assists with 10, while Davis, Szyndlar and Johnican each have 7.

Mat

(Continued from 1st Sports) bout and heavyweight Keith Simons lost his bid for first place when he was pinned by Chelsea's Brown in 1:30.

Belleville collected third and fourth place ribbons from John Smith (107) and Jerry Lucas (185).

Romulus, which settled in sixth place with a total of 40 points, received a winning performance from its 185 pounder Russell Reaume.

Reaume knocked off Dexter's Grapp in the finals 12-5 after decisioning Kargel, of Chelsea, 2-0. That latter bout went into overtime before it was finally decided.

The Romulus grappler also claimed a pin (2:36) over Haslett's Mainfort.

Coach Jim Stallings had three places with Charles Decker (95); Gregory Stephens (115) and heavyweight Tim Sypula.

Decker pinned Miller of Adrian in 2:11 while Stephens won a 7-1 decision over Voldz of Tecumseh and Sypula floored Mitchell, of Haslett in 1:28.

John Arrington (155) and David Brown (175) placed fourth for the Eagles.

Belleville and Romulus grapplers clash Tuesday in a non-conference dual meet Tuesday. The Tigers will tune up for the match with a Suburban Six bout on Thursday with Allen Park (at home), while Romulus will travel to Garden City East on Friday.

All-Tourney Team

There was plenty of talent for coaches from the eight participating high schools to choose from and they had a tough time selecting the third Annual Huron Holiday Basketball All-Tourney Team.

Among the Top 10 players given All-Tourney recognition were: Rick Wasilewski (Huron, 6-8 center); Randy Gorham (Huron, 5-10 guard); Greg Carter (Roeper, 6-6 forward); Tim Teasley (Roeper, 6-1 guard); Roy Lee (New Haven, 6-2 guard); Eli Sims (New Haven, 6-2 forward); Jeff Korte, (Annapolis, 6-3 forward); Butch Maggitt (Ypsi Lincoln, 5-10 guard); Phil Lappicola (Lutheran West, 6-3 forward); and Mike Hunter (Carlson, 6-2 guard).

Tigers Change Image

65-49 in their holiday opener against Wayne, then came back strong against Livonia Churchill, 57-49, before dropping the consolation final to John Glenn in the final seconds, 56-55.

It was a patented heartbreak for Gates and his team. Belleville has lost several in the last minute of play this year. In fact, only two of the half dozen defeats were runaways, and this was another cliff-hanging, heart-stopping, pulse-pounding loss.

Belleville moved out to a 14-9 first period lead but faltered as Glenn took a basket lead at halftime, 25-23. The host Rockets outscored the Tigers 11-10 in the third frame for a 36-33 edge before the game turned into a frantic basket-trading triller that saw the lead change hands often.

With rangy Rocket Steve Brown, a 6-5 elusive center, dropping in buckets from the pivot, Glenn moved ahead by five midway through the final stanza.

But Tigers, led by Dick Wenzel's 11 free throws and 15 points and Bob Lytle's floor-play and 14 markers, came back strong to capture the lead with 13 seconds left, 55-54.

Rick Mussehl stole the ball, but lost it out of bounds with 8 seconds showing on the big clock. Things looked good for Belleville as Gates instructed his boys not to let Glenn get a shot in close.

Belleville hit 17 of 38 floor attempts and 21 of 37 charity tosses while Glenn canned 16 of 28 from the free throw line.

Four of Belleville's next five games will be league encounters and Gates feels this will show whether his hoopsters can make the comeback needed to put them back in the title chase.

After hosting Allen Park Friday, the Tigers travel to Trenton before returning home for Churchill, Plymouth and Redford Union games.

Retains Crown

(Continued from 1st Sports) scoring performance, Wasilewski turned in with 40 points in a 93-63 victory over Roeper in the semi-finals.

Huron launched its defense of the tourney title with a lopsided 86-44 victory over Toledo Spencer.

WOODSIDE SQUARE TOWNHOUSES

FOR AS LITTLE AS $87 PER MONTH*

The Woodside Square Townhouses are built for those who want better housing at less cost. Your monthly payment on your one, two or three bedroom townhouse includes everything: principal, interest, taxes and insurance, as well as heat, water and gas, but not electricity. And life at Woodside Square is completely maintenance free.

*Your monthly payment could be this low because under a special government program (FHA Section 236) your interest rate could be as low as 1%, depending on your family income.

Take I-94 to the Wayne Road exit and go north on Wayne Road to just past Ecorse Road. The sales office is open from Noon to 6 PM (closed on Wednesdays). Or call 721-7060.
